OAKLAND, Calif. – November 2, 2006 –The Rolling Stones have been advised to take four days off from their “A Bigger Bang” world tour in order for singer Mick Jagger to properly recover from recent throat problems.

Therefore, the Oakland show at McAfee Coliseum has been moved from Sunday, November 5 to Monday, November 6. No time change has been made; the concert will start at 6:45 p.m.

Patrons are advised to take public transportation, such as BART or AC Transit, or arrive early to avoid normal weekday traffic as well as traffic expected for such a large event. Parking lots will open to the public at 3 p.m. on Monday, November 6. Doors to the stadium will open at 4:45 p.m.

Tickets for the Sunday, November 5 scheduled performance will be honored on Monday, November 6.
